Caldwell-Marshall Reunion

The Marshall - Caldwell family reunion, which meets annually at the home of the late Mr. and Mrs. Howard Marshall, was held on Sept. 4, with Forrest Marshall, their son, as host.

Mr. Schuyler Marshall, who is president, gave the welcome address, and he read the list of the deceased members since the last meeting. He also called attention to meeting. He also called attention to were absent on account of illness. He made a motion, which was approved, that a card be sent to these members by the secretary. He called on Dr. Carl A. Collins, Jr., pastor of Liberty Baptist Church, to offer a memorial prayer for those deceased members and also a blessing for the delicious food that was spread on the tables under the oak trees.

Recognition was given to several visitors. Among them was Miss Hazel Moon, who was leaving the next day for Nigeria, Africa, after a year's furlough from her work there.

Although the day was an inclement one, about 250 members of the two clans were there, all enjoyed the food and visiting with those whom some had not seen since the last meeting. All are invited to be present again for the next meeting on Labor Day Sunday, 1956.

Of the total number of new students who have been accepted, 490 are freshmen and 65 are transfers.

Dean of Students and Registrar J. Wilfred Lambert predicted that the total William and Mary enrollment would be about 1,700. He said that a week-end orientation period will get under way Sunday, while registration for all students will be held on September 19 and 20.

Classes for the new term will begin at 8 A. M. on Wednesday, September 21.

Subsidy payments to potato growers are expected to be ready by Sept. 26. The plan involves diversion of culls to production of starch, animal feeds and flour.

WILLIAM AND MARY HAD 3,500 APPLICATIONS

Wiliamsburg, Va.- Only about one out of every six students who sought admission to the College of William and Mary in Virginia this year has been accepted, according to Dean of Admissions H. Westcott Cunningham.

Citing a near-record number of 3,500 preliminary applications this session in comparison with 3,300 last year, Cunningham noted that only 955 new students have been accepted. Limited facilities and high scholastic requirements, he said, prevented the College from accepting more applicants.

Appomattox County Gets Quota Of 300,000 Trees In Program

The Appomattox County forestry committee learned at a meeting on Monday that its first year goal in the Governor's "Plant More Trees" program is 300,000 seedlings. This represents the minimum quantity that must be planted, along with similar quotas that have been established for every county in Virginia, if the statewide goal of twenty million trees is to be met.

The local county committee, together with similar committees from Amelia, Nottoway, Prince Edward, Cumberland and Buckingham, held a joint meeting in Farmville to discuss ways and means of making this first year of the Governor's three-year program a success. They were guests of Continental Can Co., Inc. Meeting with them and leading the discussion was William E. Cooper, executive director of Virginia Forests, Inc. His association is administering the "Plant More Trees" program on behalf of the 90 - member statewide committee Gov. Stanley appointed earlier this year. Also present at the meeting were members of the timber, pulp and other wood using industries.

So that this program will be brought to the attention of every farmer and forest owner in Virginia, 175,000 special PMT leaflets and booklets have been prepared. They contain a message from the Governor, together with technical and economic data on tree planting itself. The Appomattox County forestry committee has received 750 of the leaflets, together with a similar number of self-addressed reply cards, which will be mailed to landowners in the county during the next three weeks. Landowners who are interested in tree planting, and who return the card, will be sent a more detailed booklet containing planting instruction and order forms.

Members of the Appomattox forestry committee are: R. B. Parrish, James Smith, J. E. Torrence, Jerry A. Burke, Henry B. Pack and Ivey Holland.

PLAYGROUND RECREATION NOTICE TO PARENTS

The IPTAY Club is trying to sell a large number of tickets this year to help support the athletic teams at Appomattox High School and to run the recreation program in the summer. This programs includes baseball, basketball, swimming and all other recreational activity. They also pay the recreational director for his services, and I know your child has enjoyed going swimming, playing at the gym and field at the school. So why not help support this program by buying a ten dollar ticket, even though you can't attend all the games we play. Your ten dollars will be well spent for the instruction your child gets at the playgrounds. — (signed) Gordon Bragg, athletic director.

October 3 & 4 Set For Salk Polio Vaccine

The Salk vaccine inoculation program for children in Appomattox County who had their first doses last spring, will be resumed in October, Dr. H. E. Jenkins, Health Director, said today. Notification has been received from the State Health Department that the county's shipment of the polio vaccine will arrive in time to give the inoculation in the period of October 1 - 15.

The second immunization will be given the children who received the first dose last year, and to those children only. At that time there were 409 children given the first dose and only those children are eligible to receive the second injection.

The doses will be given without charge at the local health office with the assistance of community doctors. The vaccine is provided by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The Health Director urges the use of the vaccine because it has demonstrated its effectiveness and serves as a precaution against the crippling effects of polio.

The family decision must be made at the time of the planned program, which starts in Appomattox October 3, at 9:45 A. M., when the colored children will be inoculated. The white children will be given the vaccine on October 4, starting at the same hour.

The superintendent of schools, Mr. J. A. Burke, has made arrangements for transportation to the Health Office.

On the state level, new sources of supply for the vaccine are expected to make it possible to enlarge the groups eligible for doses. It is expected that the work will setp up through the various grades to every Virginian up to the age of 20 and all pregnant women.

Parental authorizations signed for the first dose still will be accepted as valid. Parents who wish to cancel these authorizations will notify the Health Department or the teachers in the schools.

Blue Hornets Will Play Here Friday Night

The Appomattox Blue Hornets will meet Randolph-Henry H. S. in a football game here Friday night, at 8 o'clock at the Town Park. The local team hopes for a come-back, after suffering a 33 to 0 defeat at the hands of the strong Crimson Wave of Petersburg H. S. in the Cockade City last Friday night. Going into the third period the score was only 7 to 0 against Appomattox. Then the superior experience, weight and reserves of the big Group One school began to pay off. Petersburg was loaded with reserves about as good as their starting eleven.

The Appomattox line played well, with Alton Smith, Ralph Reynolds, John Paulette, Jack Burks, Jimmy Harper, Dickie O'Brien, Tommie O'Brien, Buddy Poe, Jack Caldwell, Bradley Babcock, Boots Carter being commended by Coach Gordon Bragg for their defense. However Appomattox was weak on offense, and weakness on pass defense led to several Crimson Wave touchdowns. The coach felt that his boys had put up a creditable game, and this week has been stressing offense and pass defense.

The coach explained that Appomattox is playing three group one schools this year for two reasons. It is difficult for A. H. S. to schedule games with other schools in groups 4 and 3 (Appomattox is in group 3). The second reason is that it takes money to support a team with proper equipment, and A. H. S. has received excellent guarantees to play the group one teams.

A large crowd is anticipated here Friday night to see the Blue Hornets take on Randolph-Henry. There were approximately 3,000 at the game in Petersburg last Friday.

J. V. TEAM TO PLAY ALTAVISTA
